WHAT'S UP, DOC?™

Hey, Tunesters!

I'm not a Super-Hero, but I play one on TV. An' this issue is dedicated to crimefighters an' heroes everywhere. Most of you were introduced to your first hero through the four-color pages of comics. But not all heroes wear flashy costumes with emblems emblazoned on their chests.

In every big city and small town, dere are always a handful of men, women, and children who live ordinary lives an' then one day, unexpectedly, dey are thrust into the limelight because of a heroic deed. But each an' every one of them will be the first to tell you that dey never set out to be a hero—they just knew that dey had to "do the right thing."

So remember, folks, that when ya do a good deed, you too are a hero. And ya don't need to wear a cape an' fancy tights to call attention to yourself—yer selfless act will say it all.

Your Pal,

Bugs Bunny

A dazzling tribute to
WALT DISNEY'S CLASSIC
50TH
FANTASIA
AN ANNIVERSARY

An officially authorized sculpture in hand-painted pewter and full-lead crystal with 24 karat gold accents

It is the greatest animated masterpiece of all times. And now, to celebrate the golden anniversary of Fantasia, The Walt Disney Company has authorized The Franklin Mint to create an unprecedented sculpture of Mickey Mouse as the Sorcerer's Apprentice—who boldly dons his master's cap and unleashes unbounded magic as he rides upon a surging wave of glory.

The Mickey Mouse sculpture is meticulously crafted in fine pewter and hand-painted to capture the brilliant detail of his bright red gown, the sorcerer's cap with stars and moon, and his legendary white-gloved hands. He stands atop a wondrous wave of full-lead crystal. And between his outstretched hands springs a shimmering arc of 24 karat gold electroplate. The Sorcerer's Apprentice Sculpture, priced at $175, payable in convenient monthly payments. Now, join in this spectacular tribute to the neverending magic of Walt Disney's Fantasia.

Return Assurance Policy

If you wish to return any Franklin Mint purchase, you may do so within 30 days of your receipt of that purchase for replacement, credit or refund.

Guaranteed Christmas Delivery

Sculpture shown actual size of approximately 61/2" in height.

There are all kinds of artists in this world. But when someone needs a crook sketched, they call a police artist. My name is Daffy. I carry a pad. I was busy putting away doughnuts in the police cafeteria, when I got called in to sketch a master criminal...

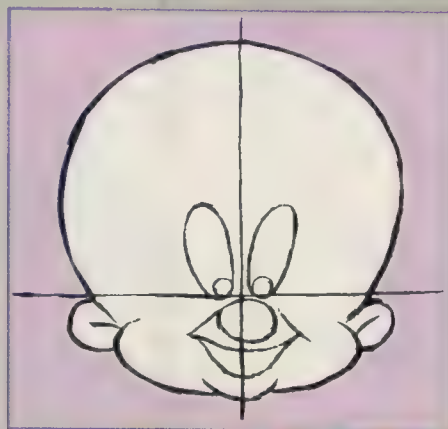

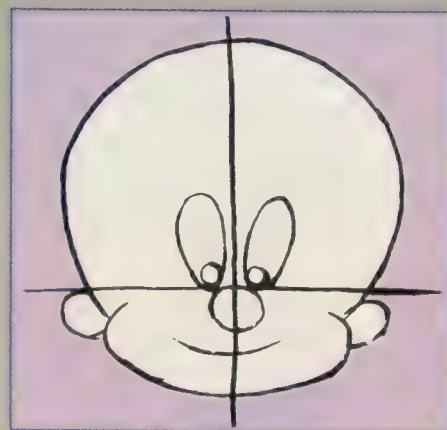

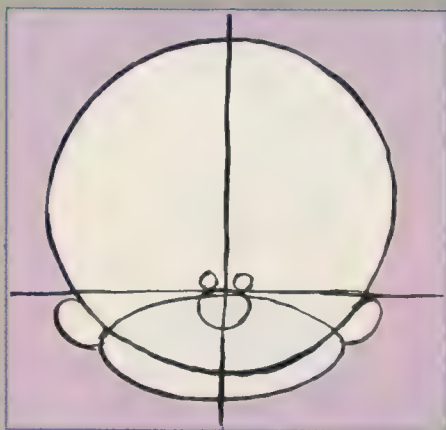

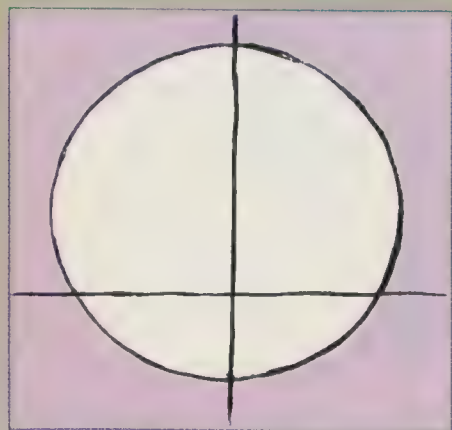

Now, ma'am. Could you please describe the man who threatened to take over the world?

He was cunning, evil, and bald!

Sounds like that criminal mastermind Wex Wuthor! I wonder what evil plot he's hatched this time?

F O L L I E S

You don't have to be a trained police artist to draw Wex Wuthor. Just start with a circle and crossing lines (double-crossing is more like it). Then add the basic shapes for the eyes, ears, nose, and mouth. Finally, add the details and you've got a picture suitable for framing—or at least hanging in the post office!

Yikes—it's Wex Wuthor himself!

What a gweat wikeness!

Why, of all the diabolical schemes!

I got my portwait drawn for fwee—heh heh
heh heh!

AROUND THE WORLD WITH SPEEDY GONZALES

Andale! Andale! Arriba! You know, amigos, all over the world, there are special police forces to help solve crimes. Let me show you some of the most famous!

In the United States, the F.B.I. (Federal Bureau of Investigation) investigates federal crimes, such as kidnapping or bank robbery. Started in 1908, the F.B.I. became famous by tracking down such notorious criminals as "Baby Face" Nelson and "Pretty Boy" Floyd.

To our north, in Canada, are the Royal Canadian Mounted Police or "Mounties." Founded in 1873, the celebrated Mounties patrolled the lawless frontier of the Yukon and Northwest Territories on horseback, keeping law and order. Their motto is Maintiens le droit, which is French for "Uphold the Law."

Scotland Yard, a division of the metropolitan police agency of London, England, was founded in 1829. Where did it get a name like Scotland Yard? Well, its first headquarters was at Scotland Yard, an area where Scottish kings stayed while visiting London in the Middle Ages. Besides serving London, Scotland Yard is also responsible for guarding royalty and other important people.

Police agencies from different countries can now work together through the International Crime Police Organization, or Interpol. Founded in 1923, Interpol includes over 100 countries. Through Interpol, different countries can share information on international criminals and their activities—like smuggling, counterfeiting, and drug trafficking! Interpol has its own agents, but arrests and investigations are still the responsibility of each country's own police force.

Ay, caramba! With all this information available to the police, very few ever escape from the muy long arm of John Law!

DISASTERPIECE THEATRE

TONIGHT'S EPISODE:

MINUTE MYSTERIES WITH DETECTIVE DUCK

How good are you at crime solving? See how well you measure up against Detective Duck and his incredible powers of observation!

THE CASE OF THE STOLEN PAINTING

THE CASE OF THE STOLEN CHEESE

"Out of my way," said Duck, squeezing himself through the throng, till he found himself standing over an empty cheeseboard. "Let a pro take over. Who can tell me what's going on?"

"I can," said Mr. Fudd, handing Duck his calling card. "My name is Elmer J. Fudd, millionaire. I was having a late-night glass of milk about half an hour ago when I heard a piece of cheese being moved. I ran through the kitchen, and straight into the library, but I was too late. My wheel of expensive imported gouda cheese was already gone."

"Is that the glass you were drinking out of?" asked Duck, noticing an empty glass in Fudd's hand.

"Why, yes it is," said Fudd, handing it over.

Detective Duck held it up to the light. "As I thought," said Duck. "Fudd, you're under arrest."

Writer: Robert Leighton Art: Steve Smallwood

HOW DID DETECTIVE DUCK KNOW THAT FUDD STOLE THE CHEESE?

ANSWER: Fudd's milk mustache was still wet, indicating that, contrary to his story, he had just finished drinking his milk. By holding the glass up to the light, Detective Duck learned that Fudd was drinking skim milk. From this he surmised that Fudd was on a low-cholesterol diet, limiting him to skim milk—and no cheese. Fudd committed the crime to cover up his love of high-fat cheese.

"Thank goodness you've come," said Porky Pig, director of the Nown Museum. "I'm afraid those art thieves have struck again."

Detective Duck was having some trouble getting out of his raincoat..

"Step over this way, and I'll show you the site of the theft."

At the end of the corridor, a large blank space told of the painting that should have hung there.

"Was it very valuable?" asked Duck, now trying to unfasten his collar while keeping his fedora tucked under one tangled arm.

"The most expensive in the exhibit," said Pig. "Let me call in my assistant, Sylvester, who can tell us its exact worth."

Porky Pig opened the door to his office and returned with Sylvester.

"Good afternoon," said Sylvester, looking through his document file. "The missing painting was worth—"

"That won't be necessary," said Detective Duck, finally yanking his coat off over his head. "Sylvester, you're wanted for art theft."

WHAT MADE DETECTIVE DUCK SUSPECT SYLVESTER?

ANSWER: It was simple. Sylvester greeted Detective Duck by saying "Good afternoon." Duck surmised that Sylvester, wanting to find out if he was a suspect, had spent all afternoon pressing his ear up against the office wall. If he had turned his head the other way, he would have seen it was already dark out.

WHY DID DUCK COME UP WITH THIS OUTRAGEOUS CHARGE?

ANSWER: Detective Duck does not know French. He was in there over his head. He thought at the precinct house who could help, but frankly, he couldn't think of any better way of getting Le Pew down there. This was the best he could come up with. So sue him.

THE CASE OF THE BACKWARDS CLOCK

"'Oo would want a clock zat only runs backward?" asked Monsieur Le Pew, offering Detective Duck a glass of French mineral water.

"No thanks, Le Pew, never touch the stuff," answered Duck, unfolding his magnifying glass and examining the brick fireplace. "Just got a few questions for you first. Any problem with that?"

"Non," said Le Pew.

"You say you bought the clock in Paris?"

"Oui," said Le Pew.

"We? You and who else?"

"Only moi," said Le Pew.

Duck hadn't heard about this M'wa character before. Already Le Pew's story contained more holes than a Spandex candelabra.

"What was it about this clock you liked so much?" asked Duck.

"It had a certain... je ne sais quoi," said Le Pew, shrugging his shoulders. "Care for some tea?" Detective Duck folded up his magnifying glass and closed his notebook. "Sorry, Le Pew, time's out on this case. I'm booking you for impersonating an officer."

YOSEMITE SAM'S WAY OUT WEST

Uh oh! It's the Texas Rangers—and they're a-comin' fer me! Just who are the Texas Rangers, you ask?

The Texas Rangers started in 1820 as a volunteer corps of ornery devils whose job it was to ward off Indian attacks. They didn't have an official uniform, but they all rode on horseback and carried Colt revolvers. During the Mexican war, they earned national respect and the nickname Los Diablos Tejanos, which is Spanish for "the Texan devils"!

In 1874, the Texas Rangers became a statewide police agency—the first in the country! For an outlaw, bein' tracked by the Texas Rangers was bad news! They learnt all about horseback ridin', livin' off the land, and trackin' people from the Comanche Indians! Sometimes they'd track a lawbreaker for a hunnert miles or more!

The most famous bandit they nabbed was the legendary Sam Bass. Sam Bass lost so much money gambling that he started his own outlaw gang to make back the money. They'd robbed a whole bunch of trains, stagecoaches, and banks before the Texas Rangers caught up with them in Round Rock, Texas. The Texas Rangers always get their man!

Parking tickets, Sam. Ten thousand dollars' worth!

Haven't you heard, Sam? Everything's bigger in Texas!

What the blazes do ya want with me?

Ten thousand dollars for parking tickets?

Wile E. Coyote's Secrets for the Super Genius

Hello, super-geniuses. Tonight I'll show you how to outsmart burglars with my patented Supergenius Alarm System. I built it with commonplace gadgets you can find in any neighborhood top-secret laboratory.

I put electric eye devices around all the doors and windows! One false step and the Supergenius Alarm System is activated!

The electric eye activates a very loud alarm, and a recording of growling attack dogs. Your less-than-brilliant felon won't know the difference!

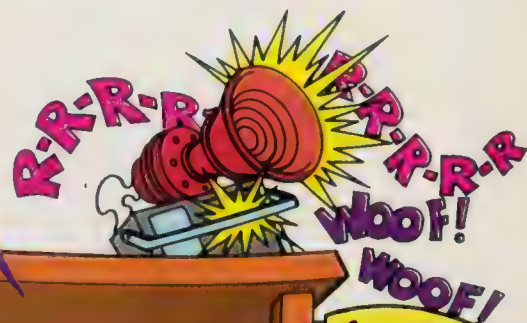

Hard-to-miss neon signs let everyone within ten blocks know that a burglary's taking place!

ELMER FUDD'S GREAT MYSTEWIES

Tonight, straight from police files, "Great Mystewies" brings you Cwimes of the Centuwy—some of the most baffling unsolved crimes ever committed!

Alcatwaz, a prison built on a small island in San Francisco Bay, used to be called "The Rock," because it was thought impossible to escape from it—that is, until it happened in June 1962. Three convicts floated away on a life waft made of sewn-together sleeves of raincoats. Did they escape to fweedom...or dwown? No one knows!

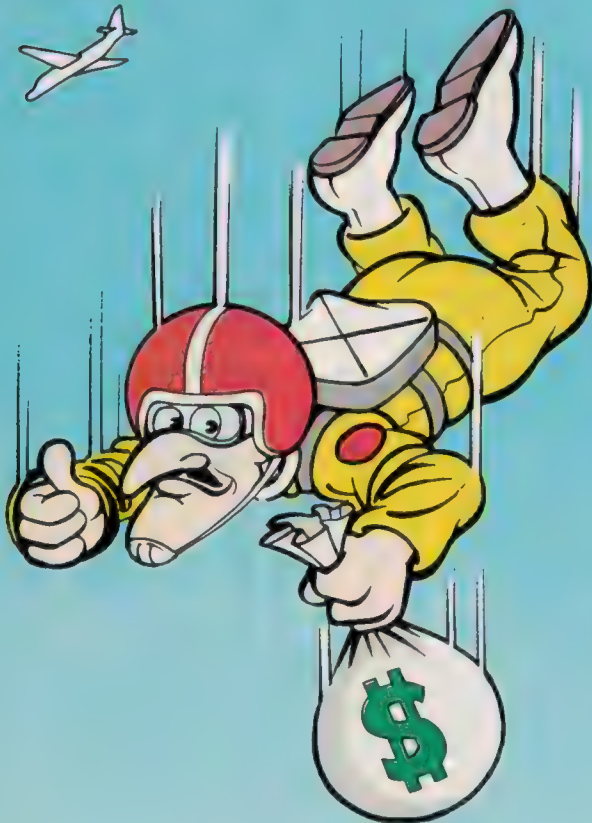

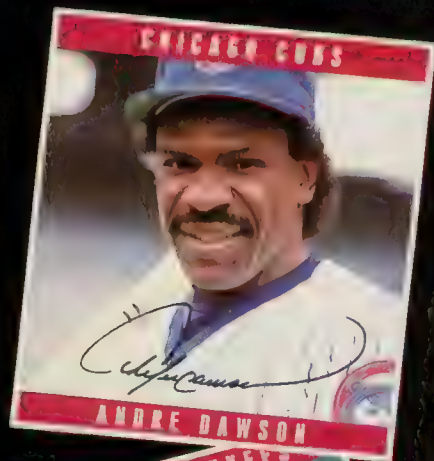

The biggest art theft in history took place at the Gardner Museum in Boston. The night of March 18, 1990, two cwooks disguised as policemen tied up the secuity guards and stole sculptures and famous paintings. What happened to the art? Did they sell it? No one knows!

Thanksgiving Eve of 1971, on an airline flight to Seattle, Washington, a cwiminal named D.B. Cooper gave a note to the stewardess demanding money and four pawachutes. When the airline delivered the money and parachutes, he told the pilot to fly to Mexico. When the plane stopped for fuel in Nevada, Cooper was gone! He had parachuted out the back door of the jet! Did he survive the fall? What happened to all that money? No one knows!

It's up to people like me, Elmer J. Fudd, to solve these cwimes and clean out these files!

Well, can you start by cleaning up this mess?

HIT THE BOOKS.

PORKY'S PUNCHLINES

DAFFY: If King Midas sat on gold, who sat on silver?

PORKY: The Lone Ranger!

FOGHORN: What's the difference between a jeweler and a jailer?

HENERY: One sells watches, and one watches cells!

Who wears a yellow raincoat and always says, "You're despicable!"?

Duck Tracy!

SYLVESTER: What's the difference between unlawful and illegal??

TWEETY: One is against the law, and the other is a sick bird!

Why did Daffy take a job as a store detective?

He always wanted to be a counter spy!

FOGHORN: Who lives in the ocean, has eight legs, and is quick on the draw?

HENERY: Billy the Squid!

ELMER: Why don't they make counterfeit pennies?

DAFFY: That would be non-cents!

BUGS: What do you call a sheriff with indigestion?

DAFFY: Wyatt Burp!

Who's faster than a speeding bullet,
more powerful than a locomotive,
and talks with a s-s-s-stutter?

Superham!

BUGS: Who's green and solves crimes?

TWEETY: Celery Queen!

BUGS: If a man smashed a clock, could he be arrested for "killing time"?

DAFFY: Not if the clock struck first!

What do you call a crook who holds
Sylvester for ransom?

A cat-napper!

BUSTER NEEDS YOUR HELP TO SAVE BABS FROM MONTANA MAX BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE.

Acme Acres is in trouble to the max. That bratty billionaire has captured Babs Bunny. So Buster's got to get hopping on a wild rescue romp!

Luckily he's got the help of his kooky pals Dizzy Devil, Furrball and Plucky Duck. And how! Dizzy Devil spins himself silly to break through rock solid walls. Furrball climbs straight up walls. And Plucky swims and glides through the air like a... duck. Along with Buster's powerful bounce, Monty will be toast!

Maybe. Six hairy scary levels show you a gazillion ways that Monty will try to trip you up. He's hired a gang of goofballs gone bad to greet you, like the ever clever Roderick Rat, iron-pumping Arnold the Pitbull and hug-happy Elmyra. If that weren't enough, you've got to beat the clock as you struggle through haunted forests, creepy pirate ships, secret chambers and finally Monty's Mansion.

The Toonsters need your help now. So "Toon" up your NES™ and let Montana Max know who's boss!
